

Who am I? A teacher and a student.

I am a confessed technology junkie who graduated from Houston Baptist University in 2004 and am excitedly working on my Master's Degree in Education Technology. I am an Instruction Technology Specialist in Sheldon ISD and am currently leading a pilot initiative using iPads and Apple TV in the classroom. I have Special Education, English Second Language, Technology Apps and Generalist certifications in the State of Texas as well.

Who am I? A nerd and a diehard.

I love the Harry Potter books and am so fascinated with the world of Hogwarts that I actually sort my students into the four houses: Ravenclaw, Hufflepuff, Gryffindor, and Slytherin! I also am loyal to my Houston Astros until the very end! I am such a fan that I actually worked a baseball season as a Guest Services Agent.

Who am I? A dad and a husband.

I have five children of my own in 1st Grade, 2nd Grade, 3rd Grade, 4th Grade and 7th Grade and am married to the most amazing woman I have ever know, Lorinda.

Who am I? A traveller.

In the last two years I have travelled to Portland, Seattle, Boston, Anchorage, Juneau, New York, Washington D.C., Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Jose, Orlando, Tampa Bay, Vancouver, and Calgary. This year I hope to add many more to that resume!
